

Standard Life Chairman's Awards

Hilton Edinburgh Grosvenor Hotel - June 2008

These Awards celebrate the achievements of employees' work in local communities and to encourage others to play a more active role. These activities and participation in local initiatives are not related directly to the company, but uniquely, Standard Life rewards their employees as an incentive for community spirit.

We transformed the room using white draping along with an abundance of vibrant LED uplighters to bring the room to life. This colour creation was enhanced by using a mask and reveal for when guests entered the awards room. Further room constraints meant that we had to be more inventive with our ideas and we custom made a stage set accordingly to fit with the height of the room. Helping our client with content for their main awards presentation, we created moving graphics and animations to make the awards stand out.

"I was very happy with the service provided by S&V and would have no hesitation to work with you all again. I was impressed by the creative solution put forward by S&V to overcome venue challenges and concept to transform the room. From our first meeting I felt that the S&V team were not only good at what they do, but also people I would like to work with."

I was delighted that S&V quickly understood our requirements and delivered a solution within budget and without drama. On the day, I was confident that S&V would deliver a successful event for us - and I wasn't disappointed. I found all of the crew very professional and helpful. Well done to all your team! "
